This and That

Good Morning,

We had a fantastic weekend of friendship and basketball at our 4th annual Basketball/Friendship Tournament. Middle school kids representing 5 schools came together on our campus, worshipping, playing, and eating together. A special thank you to John and Joy Stabel, for not only for planning and organizing the weekend, but for the time and support they have given our school sports program; because of them we are able to offer our boys and girls this wonderful opportunity to play basketball.

I also want to thank our coaches, Del Sitanggang, Hugh Gardner, and Dan Kluis for all the countless hours they spend working with our kids. And last, but not least thank you to all the parents who volunteered their time running the snack bar, cooking, and helping make the weekend such a success. Our kids had a great time, played well, and made some new friends.

Have a great week!

Blessings,

Mrs. Bartsch

Homework & Class Information---

Music

January 9- January 13

Ms. May - Grades 3 & 4

Happy New Year and welcome back!

This month our beginners will be revisiting their C scales and Lesson 8 exercises, and learning to arpeggiate their chords using the thumb and fingers on their right hand, while solidifying their chord playing with their left.

Intermediate students will also be working on arpeggiation, and moving into playing the F scale in both the first and second positions (up the neck). This is the first step towards being able to transpose melodies into any key, so it's a big step!

I will be taking suggestions and requests from both groups, for favorite songs that they are interested in learning as positive motivation for completing their note reading lessons.

I look for songs that have fun intros and positive lyrics. I then look them up to see if I can make simple arrangements that match each group's expected skill level over the next semester. If you have song suggestions that you'd like to add, please feel free to email them to me! It usually takes about ten suggestions to find one or two that will work, so don't hold back :)

With any luck we will find a few that they will all enjoy learning and playing together!
