This and That

Good Morning,

I hope you had a great weekend. I am looking forward to the promise of Fall; I know it is out there somewhere.

During our weekly staff meetings, one of the many things we often discuss is the importance of building positive relationships with our parents and finding ways to improve our communication. When parents and teachers work together, it improves a child's academic achievement, work habits, social skills and emotional well-being. Students also love knowing their parents and teacher are working as a team.

One of the best ways that parents and teachers can have a successful year is by actively listening and respecting each other. We are here to listen to your concerns, share the positives that we see in your child, and work together to problem solve and make improvements if need be.

As teachers, we try to contact parents right away if an incident occurs or we have a concern regarding your child's well-being. We will also contact you if we have a question or your child tells us something that we need clarification on; we want you to do the same. Please talk to us, not your child about adult school issues. If you have a question or hear something from another parent, please come and ask us. There is nothing that can damage a school's climate more than rumors and assumptions.

We believe the best of you, our parents. We truly believe it when we say that we have the best parents of any school. We ask that you believe the best of us too. We are not only a school community, but we are a school family. Teaching your children is a blessing, and the best part of our day is being able to talk about Jesus and how much he loves them.

I hope you have a wonderful week.

Blessings,

Ms. May - Grades 3 & 4

Thank you to parents for turning in your ukulele loan contracts, and to students for turning in your show-and-tell agreements!

Students are asked to practice several times a week (short 10-15 minute practice), and show you (or any other positive feedback person in their lives) a little of what they've learned, twice per week.

Student's show and tell can be as simple as playing one new note they have learned on ukulele, or singing you a full song if they feel inspired to do so. Feel free to ask them if they'd like to practice or 'warm up' before they show you. Thank you! :)

Please review and sign their practice sheets (behind the blue tab) in their binders before they come to school on Mondays.

This week students are reviewing their pentatonic scale notes and singing/playing a two part song called "We Will Work Together."

If you do not already have a tuner for your student, I recommend the Cleartune App, which works with both iOS and Android systems. If choosing another app, please make sure it is a chromatic tuner (not one that is specific to any instrument). If you have any questions, you can contact me by text/phone at 530-520-3285 or by email at sustainablesound@gmail.com.

Thank you!

Mr. Eli - Band - Grades 5 - 8

At the end of this month I will be quizzing the students on the concert Bb major scale, which we have been going over in class.

I may have pop quizzes which require the students to have their instrument, music, and a pencil to get full credit.

If your child is struggling, I am available between 9:40 and 10 to work with them.

Make sure that they're practicing! It's super important if we are going to be successful! Please contact me at elijahrolfe@gmail.com if you have any questions.
